AUCTION BULLETIN

The way to sell used Furniture (a straight tip) and get full value for everything, is through the Auction Rooms only. Should you wish to leave here at a set time, we will buy the whole thing as it stands, and take possession on the morning you take the steamer, paying for the goods in coin then and there, no need for you to worry. If, however, you want to sell at your own risk, we will be happy indeed to get you the best possible price, which in every case depends on the goods themselves. The buyers are here every sale and up-to-date Furniture sells freely at prices that make it very foolish to put Furniture into storage. Prices fluctuate but we will take that risk as buyers. Cannot expect us to guarantee when you sell for your own account. The polity of the rooms is to "sell whatever offered at market rates on day of sale," otherwise we could not get the people to come out and bid as they do every sale at Honolulu Auction Rooms. J. S. Bailey.

SUBSTITUTES FOR POTATOES

(By Associated Press)
NEWCASTLE, Eng.—Small dried peas called "carlins," or maple peas, are now being eaten as substitutes for potatoes in the north of England. They are cooked like marrowfat peas, soaked overnight and boiled for twenty-five minutes the next day. In early times "carlins" were eaten very generally on Carlin or Passen Sunday. They are light-brown color outside and cream colored under the skin and sell for from eight to twelve cents a pound, much less than beans and peas.

ABLE ENGINEER DIES

(By Associated Press)
BRIGHTON, Eng.—Sir John Howard, a widely known engineer who planned the Spanish-American cable route, is dead here. He was formerly mayor of this summer resort and was a great benefactor to the town, his last gift being twenty-four cottage homes for nurses in memory of Miss Edith Caswell, who was executed by the Germans.

"Willie," said his mother, "I wish you would run across the street and see how old Mrs. Brown is this morning."

A few minutes later Willie returned and reported:
"Mrs. Brown says it's none of your business how old she is."—Philadelphia Evening Ledger.
